BRYANITES have an idea that free silver sentiment is growing. They are mistaken. There is not a deadlier issue before the American people.

THE Kentucky Legislature not being in session, newspapers are at a considerable loss to supply their readers with reading matter of a humorous nature.

THE editors of this State will soon have their annual outing. The fact is there are several free silver editors in the State who need a long rest; also an airing.

STAND UP Mr. Likens, stand up Mr. Ringo, and tell the Populists why you did not support the Populist candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, if you profess to be such friends to the Populists. The Populists will remember that these two gentlemen represented Ohio county at the State Convention. The people readily see the falsity of your pet theory of love for the Populists.

HAS BEEN TESTED.

All the hypocritical love that has been manifested by the silver Democrats of Ohio county for the Populists has been tested and has been "weighed in the balance and found wanting." The silver Democracy has been parading its love for the Populists, but when it was put to the test they flickered, as it were, and completely backed down. The Populists met early in their State convention and nominated a nice young man for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and thought surely that the Democrats would endorse him for the work he did for Bryan and free silver last fall. Mr. Parker is well qualified to fill the office of Clerk of the Court of Appeals and had it not been for the narrow-mindedness of the free silver Democrats he would today be the nominee of both parties for said office. But how is it? At the Frankfort Convention Mr. Parker's name was not mentioned, which shows the falsity of the free silver Democrats' plea for Populists votes.

How is it in Ohio county? Mr. Parker, the Populist, formerly lived in this county, and has many personal friends here, including the editor of this paper. A resolution was drawn up at the convention which met at the Court House May 29th to endorse Mr. Parker, but the Democratic bosses said NO. "We must endorse a Democrat," and thus the Populists are turned down by their would be friends which clearly proves what we have said heretofore in regard to how the Democrats have treated the Populists. G. B. Likens, the Democratic nominee for Circuit Clerk, stood up in the County Convention, and made a fight for the Democrat and opposed the mentioning of the Populist's name, and he and Mr. Ringo represented Ohio county at the State Convention and cast the vote of this county for Richardson, the Democrat, against Parker, the Populist, and now Likens is asking the Populists to vote for him after betraying them as he has.

That was certainly an opportunity for the silver Democrats to show their love for their Populist friends, but they followed their old tactics and turned them down. The Populists have certainly been treated badly by the free silver Democrats and it remains to be seen whether they will continue to be misled by the Democratic bosses around Hartford.

ACCORDING to Mohamedism the Moslem who dies while fighting infidels, goes straight to heaven. This accounts for the sublime valor exhibited by the Turks in the recent war between the Greeks and Turks.

THE Courier Journal last week gave the Bryanites another fearful beating, using their late convention at Frankfort as the club. The hard blows that the Courier gives these Democratic free silverites, fell with a dull and sickening thud upon their weak and weary backs.

JO A. PARKER did more toward carrying the State of Kentucky for William Jennings Bryan than any 1,000 free silver Democrats within its borders, yet the whole gang are determined to show their ingratitude by ignoring the aspirations of Mr. Parker who asks to be made Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

FREE silver wire pulling Democrats of Ohio county are trying to use the People's party voters of Ohio county as a "cats paw" to elevate themselves to office while their State organization is snubbing Jo A. Parker, the People's party candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, by not even promising or offering him a deputy clerkship.

HARTFORD will have a railroad yet. There is a splendid opening now for the Louisville, Henderson & St. Louis Railway Company to extend their road from Fordsville on through Hartford to Madisonville. This matter has been under consideration for quite awhile and there can be no doubt that it will be finally carried into effect.

It was supposed for a while that Jo A. Parker, the People's party candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, would be endorsed by the free silver Democracy and placed on their ticket, but the fates were against him and he can't now even expect to get a deputy clerk's place as they are no doubt already promised to stalwarts within the Democratic ranks.

THE Hartford Herald this week rendered the Sound Money Democrats entirely out of the party according to their own notion. The editorial has the ear marks of Mr. B. D. Ringo, who made such vicious attacks on the Populist party a short while back, and that paper has had to reverse itself in order to be in the free silver camp. The Sound Money Democrats represent the best element of the party and the attempt of the puny little papers to read them out of the party by calling them boaters, &c., is really amusing to them, but the Herald is liable to change again before the election.

THE recent Democratic county convention took particular pains to ignore the Dispatch, a Bryanite organ recently established. Between the lines of these resolutions can be found a condemnation of the Courier-Journal. The Bryanites ought not to inflate the pride of the Dispatch too much. By so doing it might try to become as large a paper as the Courier. Such an attempt however would be too much of a stretch for its brains. A certain frog once thought he could swell up as large as an ox. He tried it and burst. The Dispatch might meet with a similar fate in the event it tries to swell up as big as the Courier.

POPULIST candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, Jo A. Parker, sees where his party is going when it goes into a fusion agreement, and he sees how the free silver Democrats have turned the Populists down on every occasion. He says:

"It is a foregone conclusion that the Frankfort Democratic convention will emphatically endorse the Chicago platform of 1896. It will also nominate a straight Democratic and proceed with its scheme to destroy the People's party by appealing to Populists to support its nominee because he has a 'chance of winning.'"

"A Populist like your humble nominee, who has fought the battles of silver when these cowards sulked to the rear, and hid behind the ponderous carcass of the stuffed prophet of Buzzard's Bay, is to be kicked aside without notice."

"It is, of course, unfair and unjust. I am as much entitled to the support of honest silver men of the Democratic party as Bryan was of the silver men in our party; but the Democratic politicians of Kentucky who are after the offices, and thirsty for a return to the power their own reckless incapacity and unfaithfulness, lost to them in 1895, expect to trample Populism and the Populist candidate under their feet."

"Populists of Kentucky will not forget this return for their loyal support of Bryan and nine silver Democratic candidates for Congress in 1896. The action of Democracy in willfully dividing the silver vote this year for spoils will be a more potent argument in future Populist conventions against fusion than all the eloquence the middle-of-the-roads can produce."

ATALE OF WOE.

It is saying, that it never rains, but it pours. This is strikingly illustrated by the deplorable condition, in which the free silver Democrats have been placed by a succession of misfortunes and adversities. Something like a year or so ago the free silver strikers got in the saddle and succeeded in a short while in riding their party to death.

This they accomplished by driving out of the party all Democrats, who believed in sound currency or the gold standard. Thus divided they tell the tale of the triumphant and united advance of the Republicans.

This however is not all or the worst of it. There are now bickerings and heart burnings among the leaders of the free silverites themselves. This was developed in their recent State Convention. It appears that there is a very considerable portion of the faithful who are waiting an opportunity to stab their knives deep into the devoted heart of P. Watt Hardin.

Mr. C. J. Bronston also has a grievance. No tears however will be shed over the sad fate of brother Bronston. Republicans remember him for the cowardly and contemptible part he played in the last regular session of the Legislature. His treatment of the aged and feeble Dr. Walton was as disgraceful an incident as ever occurred in a legislative hall.

Democrats despise him secretly because at one time he was a sound money advocate, and took his place under the free silver banner because he thought the wind was blowing that way. Bronston will shortly die a political death "unwept, unhonored and unsung."

It is also noticeable that some knives are being prepared for Urey Woodson; and that too after the oceans of ink he has recklessly and persistently expended in the behalf of the free silver cause. Woodson will be remembered as the editor of the Owensboro Messenger, which some time since, was in a hysterical state because the Courier-Journal did not think as it did.

Thus we might go on forever—well nigh—in giving instances of discord and bad feeling in the camp of the Bryanites. Gentlemen, you have the floor. Fight it out against yourselves.

"Lay on Macduff and damned be he who first cries; hold, enough!"

HERE'S A STATE OF THINGS.

We have all along been informed that the free silver Democratic aggregation is composed altogether of voters who have at heart the eternal welfare and enduring happiness of the great masses of the people—common people.

They are actuated, so they say, by pure motives and the best of intentions. Would that this were so. How unfortunate that the recent State Convention at Frankfort should belie all the matter and spoken utterances of free silverites.

Was there the least evidences in that convention to show that the common people; the great masses of humanity were once thought of? None whatever.

On the contrary, the Frankfort Convention was a bright and blooming example of corrupt and dishonest politics. It was a bright specimen of that sort of politics which is bringing ruin to the country. What boots it, that we prate of free silver or gold standard; high tariff or tariff for revenue, if our office holders are men who will stoop to all sorts of dishonest tactics to win their office.

The record of the proceedings of the convention show that on the first few ballots there was no one of the several candidates, who had a majority of the votes. At last there was a break, and then there was a wild and reckless barter and sale of votes.

Mr. Shackelford offered Mr. Richardson the chief deputyship if he would deliver so many votes. Mr. Richardson did so and it is undeniable that he is to be chief deputy.

Mr. Green also made a similar deal but they could not muster enough votes.

One bold man has come forward and said that Mr. Green was defeated because the Louisville delegation was for sale and Mr. Green would not buy them.

And this was a convention held by free silverites who profess to be the special friends of suffering humanity. Thus the wolf is exposed under the sheep's clothing.

Gentlemen of the free silver faith, the public sees through your sallow guise. Your party is in the hands of corrupt politicians, devoid of principle, who in the light of their last convention will resort to any means to get office.

Differences of Opinion.

A Democratic politician, in a speech at the Frankfort silver convention last week, said midnight raiding is due to Republican rule. Great woodcock! If every outlaw were to be caught and made tell for whom they voted last November a majority of them would answer Bryan. Since the adoption of the Chicago platform a year ago, there has been more lawlessness and anarchy than ever before known in the history of the country. The Bryan platform is revolutionary. It is a terrible piece of language and so threatening that the Hay market rioters now in their graves, must be alarmed when certain portions are read by the living. Due to Republican rule, indeed! Where is this man's consistency? And have not the raiders been more conspicuous in Democratic counties than in those governed by Republicans? Certainly. The speaker does not agree with Hon. Henry Watterson, the gifted of or of the Courier Journal, who asks these questions:

"What are the toll gate raids if they be not the offspring of the teachings of those who stigmatize as a crime the gaining and the keeping of property? What are the mask raffians, riding abroad by night to terrorize peaceful citizens and to repress free men—putting upon the planting of crops and the embargo of threatened assassination—menacing judges and juries with death, or worse than death, submission to the edicts of the bravo and the mob, if they be not the emanation of that political philosophy whose cornerstone is class hatred, and whose weapons are the language, and if need be, the torch of the incendiary? And at whose bidding have these sinister elements arrayed themselves against the public liberty and individual security, and the fair, good name of the commonwealth, if not at the bidding of an ever increasing body of professional office-seekers and office-holders, striving by organization to bring to the support of their schemes of self-aggrandizement the re-enforcement of the party discipline and spirit with their worn-out labels to mislead and inflame and their shibboleths destitute alike of sense and truth, to play upon the credulity of the ignorant and unthinking, to prey upon the fears of the timid?"—[Pantagraph.]

THE SOUND MONEY Democrats took a dignified and patriotic course of action in the last Presidential campaign and the indications are that they will not depart from it. The sound money Democrats of Kentucky have in their ranks the men who have given prestige to the Democratic party in this State, and who embody the recognized ability and character of the party. The sound money newspapers of the State are those which have given the party the State national influence and power.

The free silver Democrats, in attempting to read them out of the Democratic party, put themselves in the attitude of a faction. If there is to be any Democratic party in the future representing the ideas that have separated the Democratic from the Republican party, its nucleus must be found in the organization of the national sound money Democrats. The free silver Democracy is a mere chaos, out of which the material for intelligent parties must be attracted.—[Commercial.]

Boils, pimples and eruptions, scrofula, salt rheum and all other manifestations of impure blood are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When President McKinley came into office he was confronted by a chronic deficiency in the revenue, which his predecessor had met by borrowing money. A country like the United States ought not to borrow money in time of peace to pay current expenses. President McKinley was nominated on a Republican platform, which declared in favor of a protective tariff and sound money. All the free trade sound money Democrats who aided in his election knew what his platform was, and knew that he was nominated, because he represented the protection idea and they voted for him, or voted so as to help elect him, because they preferred protection and sound money to free trade and free silver.

As soon as Mr. McKinley was inaugurated he called Congress together to pass a revenue law which would prevent the necessity of borrowing more money, and Congress went to work on that law, and the Republican House passed one very promptly and the Senate is at work on it; and the delay in passing it is caused by so-called Democrats and Populists.

When there is plenty of revenue the currency question will not be a burning one, but the country has assurances from the highest quarters that when the pressing revenue question is disposed of the currency question will be brought forward. It is silly in Democrats, who know a protective tariff is to be wasting time in academic discussions of tariff theories instead of discussing schedules and rates.

The Republican party and President McKinley have carried out their pledges. The Democrats who caused disaster are delaying the return of prosperity.—[Commercial.]

Some weeks ago the program for a general reunion of the pupils and former pupils of Prof. Wayland Alexander, and also for the commencement of West Kentucky college, at South Carrollton, was sent out to the hundreds of persons throughout the country, who are indicated above, and on last Thursday and Friday these gathered at the college, which seems to have taken a new lease of life under Prof. Alexander's management.

The first day's exercises began with an address of welcome by Prof. Wayland Alexander, which was cordially entertaining and most felicitously expressed. To this Prof. J. R. Coyle, of Leitchfield, responded appropriately.

Hon. A. W. Little, of Kansas City, Kan., who was one of the first pupils ever taught by Prof. Alexander, delivered a strong address, abounding in a happy blending of sentiment and sense on the subject "The Other Days." My School Days" was the subject of an address by Judge J. D. Atchison, of this city. It need not be added that this was one of the strong addresses of the day.

The evening exercises were noted chiefly for the address before the literary societies delivered by Prof. McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of the Frankfort, Ky., schools.

The second day's proceedings were opened with an address by Rev. J. T. Rushing, directed to the graduates. Following him Senator W. B. Hayward, who was once the teacher of Prof. Alexander, delivered an address which is reported to have "fairly bristled with philosophic thought" and commanded the closest attention of the thoughtful because of the senator's age and experience.

Rev. J. S. Coleman spoke on "Looking On the Other Side," and this proved another rare treat. Editor Haag, of the Henderson Gleaner, was on the program to treat "The Value of Learning to Think," and, of course, he is personally and professionally competent for such a task.

The salutary was by A. D. Park, of White Plains, Ky., and the valedictory by Ben C. Gibson, of Owensboro. The two last named and Chas. H. Ellis, of Hartford, were the graduates of this year, and each received the degree of bachelor of science.

Good musical numbers—vocal and instrumental—were suitably distributed throughout the two days and aided very materially in causing all to realize fully the excerpt from Shakespeare printed on the program: "Welcome every smiles And farewell goes out sighing."—[Owensboro Messenger.]

SUNDAY SPRINGS.

Sunday morning, April 30, God bade the death angel arise from his couch and descend to this world to bear heavenward the noble spirit of my friend and neighbor, George W. Miller. Mr. Miller was a son of Esqr. John D. Miller, and was born 36 years ago. Mr. Miller has been successfully engaged in teaching for a dozen years, and his school work, excepting two years in which he taught in Muhlenberg county, has been given to his native county.

In 1891 he married Miss Lizzie Felix, daughter of Mr. Frank Felix, who was also one of Ohio county's excellent teachers. The very high regard his fellow citizens had for him was attested by the hundred of friends who visited him during the long weeks of his illness, the night-long watches by his bed side and the throng that followed him to the cemetery and wept over his grave.

After bravely, yet patiently, battling for many months with that dreadful malady consumption, he passed peacefully into that long slumber of the dead from which the voice of a God will awaken us at the judgment dawn. May the Man of Bethlehem send guardian angels to heal the wounded heart of his sorrowing wife, and soothe the paths of his three infant orphans, and one day conduct mother and children to the glittering strand of that faraway clime where husband and father waits and watches morning, noon and night for their coming.

A Horrible Death.
At Pleasant Ridge, this county, Tuesday about noon, a very sad accident occurred, which resulted in the death of Eddie Boyd, the sixteen-year-old son of Mr. W. R. Boyd, a thrifty farmer of the Pleasant Ridge neighborhood.

The boy had returned from the field, where he had been plowing, to put his mule in the stable, preparatory to the noon meal. He was sitting on the mule sideways, and had ridden into the stable. In the trough one of his little brothers was lying down, and when the mule entered the stable the little fellow raised up in the trough. This frightened the mule and it wheeled, throwing Eddie off. His feet hung in the gearing. The mule ran out of the stable, jumped the lot fence, and ran about over a thirty acre field, dragging the boy, beating his body against the stumps, bushes and trees in the field.

When he was found by the family the boy was dead. His body was bruised and torn. All his clothing, excepting his shoes, had been stripped from his body, and the sight presented was a sickening one.

The remains will be interred in the Green Brier church cemetery today at 2 p. m. —[Owensboro Messenger.]

Twenty five years ago there was not one American Concert Band worthy of the name. After the Peace Jubilee in Boston where the Frenchmen demonstrated the artistic possibilities of brass and reed instruments Gilmore took up the work with great success. Development has gone on. The concert band now conducted by Innes, is among the greatest in the world. Southerners will have a chance to hear Innes at the Tennessee Centennial in June and July. His greatest success has been achieved in the South.

Preparations are being made for the Ohio County Fair, which will be held at Hartford, September 30—3 days. A great deal of work has already been done on the grounds and buildings, getting things in shape for the coming attractions which promises to be the best in years. The programs will soon be issued and active work will begin in earnest. The managers of the Fair Company are live, progressive men. The people of Ohio county should appreciate the Fair enough to contribute liberally to its support.

Prof. Cox and Miss Sadie Austin, Beaver Dam, were in town yesterday.

Clerk of Court of Appeals.
Soon the Democrats will be singing the familiar old song that we should not run a candidate for clerk of court of appeals, as it would result in the election of a Republican or Goldbug. If the Democrats cared anything about Goldbugs they would have endorsed our nominee—Jo A. Parker.

But this would not suffice the ends of the Democrats. They want to swallow or destroy the People's party. It is the only hope of keeping the Democratic party alive.

Let no people's party man be caught asleep while on duty or waver from the straight and narrow path which in the end will lead to victory. Put the vote of the State at 50,000, and we can reach it with ease if every People's party man will do his duty. Let it be remembered that the vote given Mr. Parker will give to our opponents, and the country generally, some idea of the numerical strength of the People's party in Kentucky.

What does it matter to the people whether the clerk of the court of appeals is a Goldbug or a Republican?

But the future of the People's party is at stake, and every Populist should feel it incumbent upon himself to do all in his power to roll up a vote of forty or fifty thousand for Jo A. Parker for clerk of the court of appeals. Let us give Parker two thousand in Daviess county. —[Farmer's Journal.]

Five School House.
Messrs. Clarence Smith and G. W. Brite, members of the school board at Fordsville, are in the city to-day to make contracts for material for the building of a fine school house in their town. Plans for a beautiful and substantial structure have been selected, and work will commence at once. The house will cost something over $4,000, and will be a credit and ornament to the town. The board that decided to build the house are all young men, and were only elected last Saturday, but they are pushers and deserve a great deal of credit for their enterprise. —[Inquirer.]

Kentucky Crop Report.

For the June report replies were received from 164 correspondents, representing 112 counties, leaving only the counties of Adair, Edmonson, Laine, McLean, Oldham, Simpson and Woodford failing to report.

WHEAT.—The condition of the wheat crop June 1st averages 93, which is a loss of 2 points during the month of May. June 1st, 1896, the condition was 61. The crop continues to show the best condition in the central portion of the State, where 12 counties report an average above 100. The highest average condition is in Franklin county, 125. In Henderson county the condition is 55, the lowest, Livingston county following closely with a condition averaging 57.

CORN.—The condition of the corn crop on June 1st averages 82. On this date of 1896 the condition was 93. The crop continues in a very backward state. The weather conditions during May were not calculated to enable the crop to regain the loss due to late planting.

OATS.—Although there was a lack of sunshine and moisture during May the oat crop shown an improvement from 75 May 1st to 82 on the date of this report. The condition on June 1st, 1896, was 69.

TOBACCO.—Little was done towards setting the tobacco crop until the last week of May, when a fair season prevailed over the greater portion of the State. This is in striking contrast with this date in 1896, when practically the entire crop had been set and much of it had received cultivation.

MEADOWS.—Meadows are quite promising, the only drawback being an unusual amount of weeds in those that have been standing for a number of years. The condition averages 88.

PASTURES.—The condition of pastures averages 94, which is about what might be expected considering the cool, dry weather of May. From Livingston county comes a report of pastures completely destroyed by army worms, which, so far as the report goes, is confined to one farm.

WOOL.—The wool clip of 1897 is estimated at 89 per cent, of the clip of 1896. The average price per pound for this season's clip is 16 cents, a gratifying improvement on 12 1/4c, which was the price paid per pound obtained for clip of 1896.

LIVE STOCK.—Is generally reported in good condition with the exception of work stock, which is very much reduced in flesh owing to the severe work necessary to get the soil in good condition for crops. Cattle and sheep continue in demand. Hogs have suffered about the usual loss from cholera. In McCracken county hogs are reported diseased hitherto unknown. Cattle are dying of "Bloody Murrain" in Estill county.

FRUIT.—Apples and peaches have dropped badly during the month. The reports are still very conflicting in regard to these two fruits. Pears and cherries are universally reported a poor crop, while the berry crop promises to be abundant. The general summary of condition is, for apples, 76; peaches, 64; pears, 56, and cherries 56. For May the conditions were, for apples, 96; peaches, 70; pears 74, and cherries, 82.

LUCAS MOORE,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

Young Man Gone.

Henderson, Ky., June 8.—The news is in circulation here that Hugh Robards, of Niagara, mysteriously disappeared from his home on Saturday night last and hasn't been heard of since. He is a son of Thos. Robards, a highly respected and well-to-do farmer of that neighborhood, and as a natural result the family is very much distressed over the sudden departure of young Robards.

Robards has, it is said, been very much in love with a Miss Rhoads who resides in that neighborhood and has been paying her very close attention until it became the current report that the two were engaged to be married. As the report goes he called on her last Saturday evening and asked her to carry out the engagement and to name the happy day. This she declined to do refusing absolutely to marry him. He then told her that she would never see him alive again or words equivalent and he took his departure. He rode his horse home and put it up in the stable and hasn't been heard of since. He had $50 in money on his person.

Many of his friends and possibly members of his family fear that he has suicided.

The farmer is equally interested with the mechanic in the Protection of our home market. The value of the home market to the farmer is nowhere shown any more conclusively and the Democratic Free-Trade assertions more conclusively proven untrue than by the United States Treasury Statistical Abstract. The consumption of our farm products by our people reached its maximum in 1892. Passing our 1893, the year of the panic, and taking 1894, it shows that more than 51 per cent. more pounds of raw cotton were consumed by our people in 1892 under Republican tariff than in the year 1894 under the threat of Democratic free trade tariff; that more than 73 per cent. more wheat was consumed by our people in 1892 than in 1894, that more than 33 per cent. more corn was consumed by our own people in 1892 than in 1894, that more than 32 per cent. more pounds of wool were consumed in 1892 than in 1894 —[Hon. J. H. Walker, M. C., of Massachusetts.]

Historic Address.

On Saturday, June the 5th Edwin Forbes, of Fordsville, visited the old Forbes farm, now the home of Mrs. W. F. Tatum and family, a few miles north of Hartford. At night he addressed the community at their district schoolhouse No. 103. Col. Forbes' address consisted of the early settlement of that part of Ohio county after the close of the Revolutionary war in 1783 to the citizens there in 1849. He said that many of the first settlers had been soldiers of Washington's continental army, of their fighting on Green river in Ohio county in 1781; to the last Indian incursion in Kentucky in the year 1793, the Forbes farm and the country around it in the year 1849 and citizens stayed at that time at the fort at Hartford and the one at the Zack Austin farm and the early settlers and their battles with the Indians, at and near these forts, the Austins, Stevens, Taylors, Capt. Wm. Duke, Joel Ellis, F. Robertson, F. Morgan and other citizens of the community in 1849, with a tribute of respect to their memory and closed his address with a patriotic conclusion in honor of the first settlers and their lineal descendants and a warm appeal to parents on educating their children. The aged widow of W. Austin was present and affirmed that all the speaker said of the history of the community. The audience was large and very attentive and before leaving the house nearly all of the descendants of the old settlers present went to the speaker and shook hands with him. Col. Forbes had at this meeting a map of the Forbes farm in 1849, and eighteen paintings representing scenes on and around the Forbes farm in 1849. These drawings can now be seen at Mrs. Tatum's.

Mr. J. C. Westerfield, Jr., and Miss Addie Hewlett, both of Pleasant Ridge, will be married at the residence of the bride's mother Wednesday morning, June 23, at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. J. S. Coleman performing the ceremony. The marriage will be a quiet one, only a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties being present. Immediately after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Westerfield will come to Owensboro and take the 11:35 train and spend their honeymoon at the Nashville exposition. Mr. Westerfield is a young miller, and very popular, while Miss Hewlett is an exceedingly attractive young lady, who has a large circle of friends. —[Owensboro Inquirer.]
